

The Israelites Cross the Jordan River

Lesson 12

Remember what God has done.

“Give thanks to the Lord, call on his name; make known among the nations what he has done” (1 Chronicles 16:8).

We heard this week how the Israelites remembered what God did for them, and we learned that we need to remember what God does for us each day (Joshua 3:1–4:24). Strengthen your family’s faith learning and growth at home with this easy idea:

Parents: Discuss what God has done for your family lately. Maybe God provided financially in an unexpected way while you were out of a job, or maybe God protected your family when you got lost hiking. Practice talking about what God has done for you so you’ll be prepared to tell others. Then, as a family, talk about how you showed God your thanks and gave him the credit. Talk about how you’ll remember to thank God the next time he helps you in some way, too.

God, thank you for all you do for us each day. This week, help us to remember what you’ve done for us in the past, and teach us how to tell others about what you’ve done. In Jesus’ name, amen.
